

With outstanding charging stations and comprehensive expertise, Compleo enables its customers to achieve electromobility. Large companies, operators and energy suppliers throughout Europe rely on Compleo's AC and DC charging stations. Active in the industry since 2009, over 200 employees now work for the Compleo team. For several years we have been on a path of continuous growth in the rapidly developing market of electromobility and to reinforce our team, we are looking for a manager investor relations (m/f/d)

Your mission

- Prepare IR strategy together with management board
- Prepare and present the Compleo equity story to the capital markets
- Establish and maintain relationships with investors and analysts
- Organise and conduct investor meetings (conferences, roadshows, capital market day)
- Prepare presentations for quarterly presentations, quarterly and annual reports
- Conduct capital market competitive analysis, including operational and financial metrics
- Monitor and evaluate analyst reports and provide capital market feedback to management
- Support investor relations processes (IR website, CRM tools, etc.)
- Direct report to the CFO

Your profile

- Degree in business administration or comparable job experience
- Several years of experience in capital market communication with a background in financial reporting and/or controlling
- Good understanding of company modelling and valuation methods
- Strong communication, presentation and analytical skills
- Ability to work under pressure and strict deadlines
- High commitment, flexibility, persuasiveness, friendliness
- Fluent in German and English

Your perspective

- Interesting tasks within a committed team and a company that is constantly developing with the young, growing market of electromobility
- Flat hierarchies, quick decisions, creative freedom, and flexibility
- A diverse team that combines experience and young energy in one innovative product
- An induction to your work that values the balance between close support and independent learning

If you enjoy working with a motivated team to make a difference through your active commitment to help shape the development of innovative products, please apply online at www.compleo-cs.com/jobs.

If you have any questions, please contact the HR team at bewerbung@compleo-cs.de.