

WORKING STUDENT INVESTOR RELATIONS (M/F/D)

We are looking for support in the Investor Relations department from June 2023. Working closely with our IR team, you will take on (sub-project) tasks and gain insights into many facets of the IR work in an international environment and the organization of various events for shareholders, analysts and debt and equity investors. The Investor Relations department is informing all capital market participants and the interested public about current developments of the company and ensures a continuous dialog with the capital market.

YOUR TASKS

- / You support the financial communication with existing and prospective international investors, financial analysts, and other external stakeholders.
- / You participate in the preparation of quarterly reportings and management presentations.
- / You contribute to analyses on the capital market, market expectations and the competitive environment to support key decision makers.
- / You participate in the organization of various IR events such as Capital Markets Days and investor meetings.

YOUR SKILLS

- / You are studying economics, business administration, banking or comparable, maybe even combined with marketing/communication.
- / You have an interest in the commercial vehicle industry.
- / The handling of MS Office applications is easy for you.
- / Above-average quality awareness is a matter of course for you.
- / Being a strong team player, high commitment and communication skills are among your strengths.
- / Very good language skills in German (C2) and English (min. B2) complete your profile.

BECOME PART OF OUR SUCCESS STORY

Even if you do not completely match our ideal profile, we will be happy to receive your complete application (including resume, cover letter, references and an indication of a possible start date) by e-mail to: jobs@traton.com

WE OFFER

- / International working environment
- / Responsibility for own projects
- / Insights into different areas of the Investor Relations work
- / Flexible working hours and the possibility to work remotely
